11%

higher profit per employee for organisations using psychometrics for hiring and development (SHL Global Benchmark 2026)

OVERVIEW

Testing done well, and understood by the right hiring panel in the moments that matter, is transformative and worth several times its initial cost. Too often testing is handed over to hiring panels, with far too little support for how to apply the insights best, what questions to ask ourselves, and what questions to add to any subsequent interviews or reference checks.

eyeYou boasts deep and extensive expertise in all assessment approaches and formats, from development to implementation and interpretation support, and provide direct pragmatic support to extract the full value of your selection processes in:

- report interpretation and 'what now' for psychometric report outcomes for final candidates
- design of follow-up interview / reference checking questions informed by testing outcomes
- interview support and participation - expert panel member on psychological and behavioural 'fit' with the role

WHAT YOU'LL GAIN

- developing understanding of valid and robust assessment principles, how these fit with recruitment and selection to sharpen your people strategy over time
- much more in-depth and practical insight and understanding of your top and preferred candidates and their likely initial 3 to 6 months

RESOURCES & SUPPORT

- ongoing access to eyeYou's repository of assessment resources, best-practice guides, and interpretive tools and support
- follow-up support with eyeYou as required on a retainer/phone support basis

KEY OUTCOMES

- the realisation of the true full value of your assessment processes
- confidence in the knowledge that you have made the best possible decision with the information and talent available to you
